

Occupational and Environmental Health Databases, Telephone Services, and other Resources

Abbreviation and Name Type of Resource (database, telephone service or other service) Hyperlink	Scope (Chemical, Physical, and/or Biological hazards) and description	Includes effects during pregnancy and child development?	Includes effects on fertility (males, females)?	Includes exposure via breast milk?	Intended audience?	Strength of the published literature indicated? Routinely updated?	Funding Source(s)
ChemHat Chemical Hazards and Alternatives Toolbox Database Chemhat.org	Chemicals. Designed to offer easy access to useful information to protect workers and families against chemical hazards.	Yes	Yes	No	Designed for workers. Useful to all audiences	Yes Updates come from source list updates	Blue Green Alliance (alliance of unions and environmental groups)
MotherToBaby Factsheets and Resources Pregnancy Exposure InfoLine for healthcare providers 1-866-626-6847 https://mothertobaby.org	Medications, vaccines, chemicals, herbal products, substances of abuse, and maternal health conditions during pregnancy and breastfeeding. MotherToBaby offers evidence-based information on the safety of medications and other exposures during pregnancy and breastfeeding. It is a service of the non-profit Organization of Teratology Information Specialists (OTIS). OTIS was established in 1987 to connect birth defects research experts to the public, created a national call system in 2002, and announced MotherToBaby in 2013.	Yes	No	Yes	Workers, employers, clinicians, public health professionals, scientists, industrial hygienists, toxicologists	No Yes	Federal grants, donations, membership fees
Pregnant@Work Resources on pregnancy and breastfeeding accommodation legal rights for workers. Email hotline@worklifelaw.org HotLine (415) 703-8276 Accommodation templates for clinicians	An initiative of the Center for WorkLife Law, UC Hastings College of the Law An online legal resource for pregnant and breastfeeding employees seeking accommodation. Clinician resources include accommodation clinician note	n/a	n/a	n/a	Clinicians, other audiences	n/a	Kellogg Foundation, Novo Foundation, University of California, Hastings

https://pregnantatwork.org	templates tailored to each state in the union. https://pregnantatwork.org/washington-2/						College of the Law
PubCHEM US National Library of Medicine Public Chemical Database https://pubchem.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/	Chemicals. PubChem is an open chemistry database at the National Institutes of Health (NIH), meaning scientists can add their scientific data so others may use it. Since the launch in 2004, PubChem has become a key chemical information resource for scientists, students, and the general public.	Yes	Yes	Yes	Workers, employers, clinicians, public health professionals, scientists, industrial hygienists, toxicologists	Yes Open database	US Government
OEHHA Prop 65 List California Office of Environmental Health Hazard Assessment Database https://oehha.ca.gov/proposition-65/proposition-65-list	Chemicals. The list contains a wide range of naturally occurring and synthetic chemicals that are known to cause cancer or birth defects or other reproductive harm. Includes additives or ingredients in pesticides, common household products, food, drugs, dyes, or solvents. Listed chemicals may also be used in manufacturing and construction, or they may be byproducts of chemical processes, such as vehicle exhaust.	Yes	Yes	No	Workers, employers, clinicians, public health professionals, scientists, industrial hygienists, toxicologists	No Includes a public comment process	California Department of Public Health
EU ECHA European Union European Chemicals Agency Database https://echa.europa.eu/information-on-chemicals	Chemicals, Physical & Biological agents. A comprehensive source of information on the chemicals manufactured and imported in Europe, and physical and biological agents. ECHA is independent from all external interests and impartial in decision making. Search by chemical name, CAS or other hazard and ECHA in your browser.	Yes	Yes	Yes	Technically-trained audiences. Database is difficult to use.	Yes Yes	European Union
REPROTOX® Reproductive Toxicology Center Summaries on effects of agents https://reprotox.org/	Chemicals, Physical and Biological agents. Medications. REPROTOX® contains summaries on the effects of the above agents on pregnancy, reproduction, and development. Fee for service resource	Yes	Yes	Yes	Clinicians, public health professionals, scientists, industrial hygienists, toxicologists	No Yes	Membership fees and licensing to online services

TERIS Teratogen Information System Clinical teratology resource https://deohs.washington.edu/teris/	Medications, chemicals, infectious agents. A non-profit, clinical teratology resource to assess risks of medication and other exposures during pregnancy, and to facilitate clinical decision making and patient counseling. Established in 1986 Fee for service resource	Yes	No. Focus is exposures during pregnancy	No	Clinicians, public health professionals, scientists, genetic counselors and pharmacists, toxicologists	Yes Yes	Subscription service and royalties from publishers
NIOSH HHE CDC National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health Health Hazard Evaluations Workplace hazard evaluation reports CDC - NIOSH Health Hazard Evaluations (HHEs) - Search	NIOSH HHE reports cover a limited number of workplace reproductive hazards. Search by type of occupation and any hazard at the NIOSH HHE homepage.	n/a	n/a	n/a	Clinicians, public health professionals, scientists, industrial hygienists, toxicologists	n/a	US Government
FDA US Food and Drug Administration List of pregnancy exposure registries https://www.fda.gov/science-research/women-health-research/list-pregnancy-exposure-registries	Database of pregnancy registries to study health information from exposure to medical products (drugs, vaccines, etc) during pregnancy.	n/a	n/a	n/a	Workers, employers, clinicians, public health professionals, scientists, industrial hygienists, toxicologists	Yes n/a	US Government

Funding and support for this project has been provided by the State of Washington, Department of Labor & Industries, Safety & Health Investment Projects (SHIP).