

John Stewart is the Vice President of UECNA. For 20 years, 2000 – 2020, he coordinated HACAN (Heathrow Association for the Control of Aircraft Noise) which gives a voice to residents living under the Heathrow flight paths. HACAN coordinated the opposition to the proposals for a third runway at Heathrow which were dropped in 2010. John has worked or campaigned in the field of transport for 40 years and on noise matters for 25 years. He is the lead author of Why Noise Matters, published by Earthscan in 2011. He is a member of the European Commission's Noise Expert Group.
