Class sessions: Spring Quarter, Thursdays, 5:30-7:20pm, March 28 - May 30, 2024

Location: UW Gould Hall, Room 102

Course Description:

Health impact assessment (HIA) is a process used to inform decision-makers about the potential health impacts of proposed projects, plans, programs, and policies that do not traditionally focus on health outcomes (e.g. transportation, education, housing), but are likely to affect the public's health. This course is appropriate for students interested in evaluating the links between community design and public health and applying this evidence to inform decision-making and promote health equity for new policies and plans. In the course, students consider the rationale for conducting HIAs, learn the steps to conduct an HIA, review national and international case studies, explore how HIA findings may impact decision-making and improve health equity, and discuss the use of Health in All Policies as an approach to decision-making. As a major component of the course, students conduct a detailed HIA of the health and equity aspects of a currently proposed local project or plan.

For Spring Quarter 2024, the class HIA project will focus on the draft First Hill / Capitol Hill Urban Center Plan which is being developed to guide long term planning for the First Hill and Capitol Hill neighborhoods in Seattle. Our collaborators for this project are Erica Bush and Jesse London who are Urban Centers Planners with the Seattle Office of Planning and Community Development. Topics to be considered in the HIA may include, but are not limited to, housing, density, transportation, equity, walkability, parks and green space, safety, community identity, affordability, gentrification and displacement, and healthy food access. During the course, students will participate in a field visit to the Capitol Hill/First Hill neighborhoods to help them visualize the issues involved in the project. The class is enriched by interdisciplinary discussions among students who typically come from public health, urban planning, architecture, landscape architecture, public policy, social work, engineering, and other fields.

Prerequisites: Prior classes and/or experience in health and built environment, health policy, and urban planning issues are helpful but not required.

Course Learning Objectives

At the conclusion of the course, students should be able to:

- Describe the purpose, benefits, and challenges of using health impact assessments (HIAs) to convey information about health to decision-makers and to improve social equity
- Describe the core steps used to conduct HIAs including screening, scoping, assessment, making recommendations, reporting, and monitoring and evaluation
- Summarize the similarities and differences in using HIA as an approach separate from Environmental Impact Assessments
- Collaborate effectively with others in completing an HIA in an interdisciplinary environment
- Explain the application of Health in All Policies in the policymaking process

Student Evaluation

- Class participation including discussion of ideas from required readings - 15%
- Contribution to HIA conducted as class project - 50%
- Required paper #1: Paper and presentation analyzing an existing completed HIA - 20%
- Required paper #2: Comments on draft HIA report and reflections on HIA process - 15%

Access and Accommodations: Your experience in this class is important to me. It is the policy and practice of the University of Washington to create inclusive and accessible learning environments consistent with federal and state law. If you have already established accommodations with Disability Resources for Students (DRS), please activate your accommodations via myDRS so we can discuss how they will be implemented in this course. If you have not yet established services through DRS but have a temporary health condition or permanent disability that requires accommodations (conditions include but not limited to; mental health, attention-related, learning, vision, hearing, physical or health impacts), contact DRS directly to set up an Access Plan. DRS facilitates the interactive process that establishes reasonable accommodations. Contact DRS at disability.uw.edu \(http://depts.washington.edu/uwdrs/\).

Academic Integrity: Students at UW are expected to maintain the highest standards of academic conduct, professional honesty, and personal integrity. UW is committed to upholding standards of academic integrity consistent with the academic and professional communities of which it is a part. Plagiarism, cheating, and other misconduct are serious violations of the UW Student Conduct Code (WAC 478-120). We expect you to know and follow the university's policies on cheating and plagiarism, and the SPH Academic Integrity Policy (<https://sph.washington.edu/students/academic-integrity-policy/> \(https://sph.washington.edu/students/academic-integrity-policy/\)). Any suspected cases of academic misconduct will be handled according to UW regulations. For more information, see the UW Community Standards and Student Conduct website <http://www.washington.edu/cssc/> \(http://www.washington.edu/cssc/\).

Religious Accommodations: Washington state law requires that UW develop a policy for accommodation of student absences or significant hardship due to reasons of faith or conscience, or for organized religious activities. The UW's policy, including more information about how to request an accommodation, is available at Religious Accommodations Policy \(https://registrar.washington.edu/staffandfaculty/religious-accommodations-policy/\). Accommodations must be requested within the first two weeks of this course using the form at <https://registrar.washington.edu/students/religious-accommodations-request/> \(https://registrar.washington.edu/students/religious-accommodations-request/\).

Readings: Readings are available online or on Canvas Share Space or on both. For each class there are 1 or 2 REQUIRED readings and several optional readings. It is expected that, in addition to the required readings, you will read at least the abstract or executive summary of each of the optional articles and HIA reports listed. Excellent performance involves reading completely at least half of all articles listed and contributing ideas from these readings to the class discussions.

Class schedule

- SECOND DRAFT OF INDIVIDUAL HIA CHAPTERS DUE
- FIRST DRAFT OF INTEGRATED FULL HIA REPORT DUE

May 30: Student presentations to Seattle OPCD stakeholders: First Hill / Capitol Hill Plan HIA report

- REQUIRED PAPER #2 DUE: DRAFT REPORT EDITS AND REFLECTIONS
- SEMI-FINAL DRAFT OF FULL FIRST HILL/CAPITOL HILL PLAN HIA REPORT DUE

June 5 (Wednesday): Due date for First Hill / Capitol Hill Plan final HIA report, ready for submission to Seattle Office of Planning and Community Development stakeholders. Students completing report synthesis and editing may receive 3rd credit hour for course.

CLASS ACTIVITIES/REQUIREMENTS

1. Required paper #1 (submit to Canvas): 3 to 5 page single-spaced paper reviewing and critiquing an existing completed HIA, including

- Who conducted the HIA and why was it done
- Description of project/policy
- HIA quantitative and qualitative methods used
- Major findings
- Major recommendations
- Strengths and weaknesses of this HIA
- Impact of HIA on subsequent decisions if available.

See Kemm: Checklist for HIA Reports on Canvas for checklist on how to critique an HIA report

Choose your HIA for review from one of the following overlapping sources:

1. List of 18 exemplary HIAs selected by SOPHIA – see below.
2. List of 400+ HIAs completed in the US on the HIA Community Commons website – Go to <https://hia.communitycommons.org/explore/browse-all/>  and search for HIA reports by location or by sector such as agriculture, community development, criminal justice, education, energy, food and nutrition policy, housing, labor and employment, natural resources management, planning and zoning, tax and budget policy, and transportation. Some HIAs listed may contain too little or too much information to be useful for review purposes.

DUE DATE: April 18, 5:00pm

2. Student presentations of their analyses of existing completed HIAs:

On April 18 and April 25 in class, students will present and discuss the HIA they reviewed for their written paper. Presentations will be 4 minutes per student plus 2 minutes for questions and discussion. All students should be prepared to present on April 18, so that students who reviewed the same HIA can present sequentially.

3. Required paper #2 (submit to Canvas): 2 to 3 page single-spaced paper responding to following issues:

- Specific comments about first draft of class HIA report; these should be sent to the class report editors no later than 5:00pm on Sunday, May 26 so they can be considered in the final report. A brief summary (maximum one paragraph) of these comments should be included in this required paper #2 (editors need not submit comments about report).
- Reflections (not sent to editors) on the overall process of developing the class HIA
- Reflections on any of the readings that you found particularly useful
- Thoughts on how HIA may be useful as a tool in your future professional work
- Any other comments about the class. Note that positive or negative comments for which you prefer anonymity should be saved for the on-line anonymous course evaluation

DUE DATE MAY 30, 5:00pm

4. Class report with contributions by all students: HIA of First Hill / Capitol Hill Plan

On May 30 in class, a spokesperson for each of the 4-5 small groups of students will present for about 10 minutes the details of the portion of the First Hill / Capitol Hill Plan HIA for which they took primary responsibility, followed by class discussion of the issues presented. A student editor/synthesizer will open and close the student presentations. Stakeholders from the Seattle Office of Planning and Community Development will be present and will provide feedback.

5. Field visit to Capitol Hill / First Hill on Thursday May 2. Meet at 5:30pm at Capitol Hill Link Light Rail station entrance on E John Street. Students are encouraged to take photos during the field visit for use in the final HIA report.

USE OF GENERATIVE ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE (AI) TOOLS SUCH AS ChatGPT

1. For Required paper #1, critique of an existing completed HIA, the use of generative AI tools is not permitted because the assignment is designed to help you think critically about an existing HIA. The use of an AI tool solely to improve your spelling and grammar for this assignment is permitted.
1. For Required paper #2, comments on the draft HIA report and reflections on the course, the use of generative AI tools is not permitted because the assignment is designed to help you think critically about the draft report and about your experiences in the course. The use of an AI tool solely to improve your spelling and grammar for this assignment is permitted.
1. For writing the chapters of draft HIA report, the use of generative AI tools is permitted but discouraged. If AI tools are used, all writing and editing done by the AI tools must be fact checked by the student and must be explicitly acknowledged in the report. Instead of AI generated ideas, we recommend that you carefully review previous HIA reports on similar topics and then paraphrase any ideas from those reports that seem appropriate for inclusion in the First Hill/Capitol Hill Plan HIA report.

LAND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT: The University of Washington acknowledges the Coast Salish people of this land, the land which touches the shared waters of all tribes and bands within the Duwamish, Suquamish, Tulalip, and Muckleshoot nations.

Equity, Diversity & Inclusion

Diverse backgrounds, embodiments and experiences are essential to the critical thinking endeavor at the heart of University education. In SPH, students are expected:

- To respect individual differences, which may include, but are not limited to, age, cultural background, disability, ethnicity, family status, gender, immigration status, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, socioeconomic status and veteran status.
- To engage respectfully in the discussion of diverse worldviews and ideologies embedded in course readings, presentations and artifacts, including those course materials that are at odds with personal beliefs and values.
- To encourage students with concerns about classroom climate to talk to their instructor, adviser, a member of the departmental or SPH EDI Committee, the Assistant Dean for EDI, or the program's director.

Illness Protocol

1. If you feel ill or exhibit respiratory or other symptoms, you should not come to class. Seek medical attention if necessary and notify your instructor(s) as soon as possible by email. UW Environmental Health & Safety recommends that you wear a well-fitting mask while you are symptomatic
2. Additional recommendations include getting your annual flu shot \(https://wellbeing.uw.edu/flu-vaccination/\) and getting boosted with the updated COVID vaccines (available at clinics and pharmacies, as well as through UW Medicine ⇨ (<https://www.washington.edu/coronavirus/vaccines/>)) and local health agencies).
3. Please check your email and CANVAS announcements daily BEFORE coming to class. If we need to conduct class remotely because the instructor or a guest speaker is unable to attend in person, we will send all registered students an email and/or post a CANVAS announcement with a Zoom link for remote instruction or a plan for making up the class.
