

Bergen S, Szpiro AA: Mitigating the impact of measurement error when using penalized regression to model exposure in two-stage air pollution epidemiology studies. Environmental and Ecological Statistics 2015:1-31.

42. Hicken MT, Adar SD, Roux AVD, O’Neill MS, Magzamen S, Auchincloss AH, Kaufman JD: Do psychosocial stress and social disadvantage modify the association between air pollution and

55. Kim S-Y, Sheppard L, Larson TV, Kaufman JD, Vedal S: Combining PM 2.5 Component Data from Multiple Sources: Data Consistency and Characteristics Relevant to Epidemiological Analyses of Predicted Long-Term Exposures. Environ Health Perspect 2015.

